League of Nations to Go on, Leaders in Geneva Declare

Britain's Strong Backing
Believed to Assure
Its Future

NEW POLICY Is First of Three Analytical Stories by Associated Press

With the League of Nations trying to decide what to do about the conquest of one of its members, Ethiopia, by another, Italy, the organization itself again becomes one of the outstanding problems for world diplomats. What has the League accomplished? What has it failed to do? Has it met the ideas of its founders? These questions are discussed in a series of three daily stories, of which this is the first, by Joseph E. Sharkey, chief of the Geneva bureau of The Associated Press, a veteran foreign correspondent who has been observing and reporting international affairs for nearly 30 years.

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
GENEVA — (AP) — "Stock taking" days are upon the League of Nations and the analysis of its successes and failures, of past successes against present failures, of past failures against present successes, is being undertaken. It is a task of great importance, for the League is the only international organization which has been created since the end of the first world war. It is the only organization which has been created with the express purpose of maintaining the peace of the world. It is the only organization which has been created with the express purpose of maintaining the peace of the world.

Here at the seat of the organization which Woodrow Wilson evolved as a means of accomplishing his ideal of "self-determination of peoples" and the perpetuation of international peace, there is no thought of abandonment of the field.

Fortified by Anthony Eden's pronouncement in the British house of commons that "the League must go on," advocates of the Geneva organization feel that out of the present muddle there will emerge a modified modus vivendi which in the end will strengthen the position of the organization as an essential foundation for the maintenance of world peace.

Admittedly, the League is not perfect. It is not perfect in its organization, it is not perfect in its methods, it is not perfect in its results. But it is the only organization of its kind. It is the only organization which has been created since the end of the first world war. It is the only organization which has been created with the express purpose of maintaining the peace of the world. It is the only organization which has been created with the express purpose of maintaining the peace of the world.

These advocates of the League say it is ill understood by the masses of people in all lands. They admit that it is an imperfect organization, but maintain that its failures in some of the major political problems of the world have been permitted to overshadow the fact that it has brought something new and valuable into international relations.

It has, they say, established the idea of international collaboration, something which scarcely existed in pre-League days, and has created practical organizations for the working out of this collaboration. These include the annual assembly, the quarterly meetings of the council, a permanent League secretariat and a labyrinth of standing committees which concern themselves with virtually every field of international moment.

Gives Experts a Chance
The sessions at Geneva give opportunity for frank interchange of political ideas through personal contacts. The committee activities attract experts on every field of human endeavor.

G-Men Get Their Bandit Lovers

Two girls lured by the excitement of travel and the apparent prosperity of the men they casually met figured in the arrests of gangsters Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell. Mrs. Ruth Hamm Robinson of Davison, Okla., photo was arrested with Karpis in New Orleans. Mrs. Harry Campbell, below, said she married the gang suspect as "Robert Miller" of Toledo. Both women were freed after grilling.

Frank Ward Files for Sheriff Race

Hempstead Treasurer Enters Campaign for Sheriff and Collector

The first candidate to make a formal entry into the race for Sheriff and Collector of Hempstead county, is Frank Ward, present Hempstead treasurer, who Friday makes his announcement as a candidate for that office in the primary election to be held in August.

In entering the race Mr. Ward makes the following statement to the voters of Hempstead county: "It is with due deliberation that I am offering myself as a candidate for the sheriff's office, and in doing so I invite every voter of the county to carefully investigate my public and private life. I believe that it is your duty as a citizen to know all that it is possible to know of the man for whom you are asked to vote for this office."

"It will be my chief ambition to make you a good and efficient officer, and one in whom the responsibilities of this post can be safely entrusted. If elected to this office, I promise that every deputy sheriff that I shall select will be from among those whose business and private life has been beyond reproach. They will be men fit for their jobs and thoroughly able to shoulder the responsibility which will be theirs."

Mr. Ward was a member of the Hope police department for 18 months, resigning June 1, 1932 to run for county treasurer. He was elected to this office by a good majority and re-elected without opposition in 1934.

He will appreciate your careful consideration of his candidacy for the sheriff's office, and if you believe that he will make you a good and efficient officer, he will appreciate your support during the months of the coming campaign, and your vote in the August primary.

Mr. Ward's formal announcement of candidacy will be found in the regular political column of the Star today.

Best Farm Rally in Years Expected Here Wednesday

E. A. O'Neal, Farm Bureau Head, and Sulley Cobb Will Speak

EXPERIMENT FARM

Arrangements Being Made at Station to Handle Huge Throng

The largest farm group ever to be assembled in Southwest Arkansas is expected to attend the Farm Bureau Federation rally at the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture fruit and truck branch experiment station, Wednesday, May 20, to hear Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Chicago, and Sulley Cobb, National Cotton Administrator, Washington.

Mr. O'Neal is recognized as the nation's outstanding farm leader, heading the greatest farm organization in America. He is a dynamic speaker, who will be thoroughly enjoyed by those present. Mr. Cobb is well known throughout the South, having administered the cotton program for the past three years. This is his first appearance in this vicinity.

Mr. O'Neal will be presented in the morning by J. F. Tompkins, state president of the Farm Bureau Federation, while Mr. Cobb will be introduced by Dan T. Gray, dean and director, College of Agriculture, in the afternoon. C. C. Randall, acting assistant director of agricultural extension service, will preside over the morning meeting, and L. C. Barber, district agent, will be in charge of the afternoon session. G. W. Ware, assistant director in charge of the station with the assistance of local organizations, is conducting the event.

In view of the fact that the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station at the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, which is situated in Hempstead county near the town of Hope, will be host to Farm Bureau Federation members and other leading citizens of southwest Arkansas on Wednesday, May 20, in a meeting which will feature two of the nation's outstanding agricultural leaders, C. A. Cobb, director of the New Soil Conservation program for the Southern Region and Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, I would like to appeal to the people of Hope to take time off from their duties on that day and hear these two outstanding men.

Hempstead county and Hope are favored with one of the four meetings of this kind which are being held in the State of Arkansas during the month of May.

Since this meeting should mean so much to the agriculture of Hempstead county, I feel that it deserves the support of the leadership of this town and county. You are, therefore, encouraged and requested to be present for all, or a part of this program.

Signed: Albert Graves, Mayor of Hope.

Arrangements to properly handle the large number of visitors who will attend under the leadership of extension agents and farm bureau leaders throughout South Arkansas. Visitors are invited to spend the day. Those desiring may purchase their lunch on the station grounds.

Baptists Reject Economic Survey

Social-Economic Probe of Southern Conditions Turned Down

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—For the second consecutive year the Southern Baptist convention late Thursday voted against a survey of social and economic conditions in the South.

A report of a special committee, headed by the Rev. Edwin McNeill, Peled, Jr., of Raleigh, N. C., which would have authorized the convention's Social Service Commission to undertake the study, was tabled on a standing vote. Before the vote, the Rev. John T. Daniels, of Oklahoma City, said:

"This proposed survey points in the direction we don't want to travel down. We should stay on the track."

Not all of the more than 3000 registered delegates from 18 southern states and the District of Columbia were in the hall when the afternoon's action was taken.

All recommendations of the Social Service Commission including one that asked all churches and ministers to "abstain at all costs from bowing money from the government," and the freedom religion be not endangered was adopted.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Roosevelt said Friday that the Public Works and Resettlement Administration would be continued on a somewhat smaller scale under the pending 1-billion-425-million-dollar work relief appropriation.

NEW YORK — (AP)—District Attorney Dodge announced Friday he would immediately submit to the grand jury a complaint by Alfred E. Smith, Jr., that he was the victim of an extortion plot.

GENEVA, Switzerland — (AP)—The Republican of Guatemala resigned Friday from the League of Nations.

LITTLE ROCK — (AP)—Chief of Detectives J. O. McDougal filed murder charges against C. J. Haney, 56, Friday for the ax-slashing, last week of his niece, Mrs. Essie McCleister, 23. McDougal said the case will be presented to the grand jury Saturday.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — (AP)—The scheduled arraignment of two men held on larceny charges in connection with a $100,000 bond theft from W. D. Hammond, 70, former Charleston (W. Va.) prosecutor, was postponed Friday on motion of their lawyer, A. I. Cox, 38, and Ray Hester, 36.

7,600 Japanese on Invasion of China

Jap Garrisons Strengthened for Operations in North China

TIENTSIN, China — (AP)—The Japanese Army landed 7,600 troops from four transports Friday in a movement described by the Chinese as part of a campaign encouraged by the Italian seizure of Ethiopia for the ultimate conquest of China.

The troops were assigned to strengthen garrisons in North China.

The Chinese believe their arrival presages the ultimate coming of a full Japanese Army division of 15,000.

Japs Deny Bad Intention
TOKYO, Japan — (AP)—A spokesman for the Japanese War Office declared Friday that the increase of Japan's garrisons in North China "will injure neither China's sovereignty nor the vested rights of other powers in that area."

U. S. Dirigible to Be Put in Service

Old Los Angeles Pro-nounced "Fit" by Dr. Hugo Eckener

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The house naval committee adopted a resolution Thursday directing the chief of naval operations to restore the dirigible Los Angeles to flying status in active commission.

The resolution was offered by Representative Sutphin (D., N. J.) as the result of an inspection made by the craft last Sunday by Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Zeppelin Hindenburg which has returned to its home port in Frankfurt, Germany.

The Los Angeles, built in Germany has been out of commission for nearly three years although it has been used for ground training purposes at Lakehurst, N. J.

Sutphin said Dr. Eckener and other German experts aboard the Hindenburg pronounced the Los Angeles as being sound and fit for flying.

Commander C. E. Rosendahl, in charge of the Lakehurst base, and other officers there are ready to fly the ship as soon as they can obtain authorization from the chief of naval operations, Sutphin said.

Navy officials expressed surprise at the committee action indicating they had not been consulted. They said, however, that the resolution unaccompanied by an appropriation of funds to recondition the Los Angeles, would mean nothing because the ship, the navy's last rigid dirigible, was officially condemned by a navy board as unsuitable for service.

The Los Angeles was placed in commission in 1924.

410-Million-Dollar Norris Bill Is Sent to the President

ADJOURN JUNE 6TH

Senator Robinson Warns Senate of Five Issues to Be Settled

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Congress completed action Friday on the Norris 410-million-dollar rural electrification bill and sent it to President Roosevelt.

Senator Robinson listed a five-point program including taxes and relief as the principal business of the remaining days of the session.

Adjournment June 6.
He warned the senate he would object to anything else arising to prevent adjournment by June 6.

Robinson's five-point program included:
1. London naval treaty.
2. Omnibus flood control bill.
3. Commodity exchange bill.
4. Tax bill.
5. Deficiency relief bill.

The relief bill will take right of way, and the flood bill will be called on next Tuesday.

Difficulty on Tax
The senate finance committee on Thursday reached virtual agreement to levy a flat 15 per cent tax on corporation income but reached no agreement on whether to write into the revenue bill a levy on undistributed corporate earnings.

Trying to rewrite the house tax bill, the committee argued three hours over compromise suggestions.
"I think all the committee agrees that the house bill must be changed in certain particulars," said Senator Harrison (Dem., Miss.) committee chairman.

"A majority is opposed to the house plan. We have been unable to agree on anything up to now."
Harrison said that he believes that the bill as revised, would produce the permanent revenue desired by the administration — $623,000,000 — from corporations or their stockholders.

Harrison said that if his committee could not agree within the next few days, the bill would be reported out without recommendation and "the fight will go to the floor of the senate."

Some senators predicted the committee would scrap the presidential suggestion for a tax based on undistributed corporate earnings. Administration leaders still contended the principle would be adopted — probably in the form of a surtax.

Through the alternative corporation tax plans ran the idea of a 15 per cent flat tax on corporate income.

Pan America Trade J. R. Henry's Topic

History of Southern Republics Similar to U. S., He Tells Rotary

A detailed study of Pan America — comprising the United States and the 21 nations that live south of us, and of our foreign trade with them in future years — was given Hope Rotary club in Hotel Barlow Friday noon by J. R. Henry.

Eighteen of those countries speak Spanish, Mr. Henry said; but except for that their history closely resembles that of the English-speaking United States.

"They, like ourselves," said Mr. Henry, "were once owned by a European power which persisted in treating them as colonies rather than as part of the mother country — and, like the United States, they finally revolted."

"But the South American wars of liberation were much longer than our own. They began in 1810, and did not end until the final defeat of the Europeans in the Andes mountains in 1824."

Mr. Henry, however, pointed out no distinctive difference in government as practiced in North and South America. "The South American countries," he said, "had far more centralized governments than our own, and their peoples, therefore, had much less experience than citizens of the United States in the art of local or self-government. This, perhaps, explains why the governments of South America are less stable than our own."

A visitor at the Hope club Friday was F. W. Middleton, of the Louisiana & Arkansas Railway, with offices in Shreveport.

Although residents of the District of Columbia observe laws made by Congress and administered by three commissioners appointed by the president, they have no vote and no legislative representation.

Star to Publish Centennial Issue for Southwest Counties

The story of the founding and recent development of southwest Arkansas will be told in words and pictures with an Arkansas Centennial Special Edition by Hope Star Friday, June 26.

Tentative plans call for a 30-page edition including between 40 and 50 pictures.

The co-operation of the public and of this section's industrial enterprises is particularly asked.

Persons having historical matter, especially old clippings and pictures, are requested to loan them to The Star at once.

The compiling of the edition will begin immediately, for most of the material must be in the office by June 1 to allow a 30-page paper to be produced on schedule.

The production of a representative special edition on Arkansas' anniversary, telling a local story that won't be covered by any other publication, depends, of course, on our home people and their industries.

The Star wants the history and the advertising backing of the entire southwest Arkansas trade area, from Nashville and Okay, on the north, to Waldo and Waterloo and Prescott on the south and east.

The Centennial Edition will have no Hope "angle" whatsoever. It will simply present the story of each community and county, their history, and their industries.

The Star has the necessary mechanical facilities to tell this story, but its completeness depends on the public's co-operation.

3 Negroes Held in Local Robberies

One of Suspects Released From State Reformatory a Month Ago

Policeman John Turner reported Friday the arrest of three Hope negroes wanted for last week's robberies of the Western States Grocer company and the Arkansas Machine Specialty company.

The suspects, all held in jail, are George Lawrence, D. L. Spriggs and Daniel McFadden. The McFadden negro was released from the state reformatory about a month ago.

The grocer company was entered last Friday night and several cartons of cigarettes were stolen. Entrance was gained by smashing the front door.

The machine specialty company was looted of four automobile tubes. Part of the cigarettes taken from the grocer company were recovered.

Scandal to Shake Up British Cabinet

Sir Samuel Hoare Expected to Return as First Admiralty Lord

LONDON, Eng. — (AP)—The British cabinet, one of its members having been named at a judicial inquiry into a budget leakage, was reported Friday to be due for "important" changes.

It was rumored the shift would bring Sir Samuel Hoare back as first lord of the admiralty.

Soviet Asks for Action on Italy

Russia Wants Britain to Enforce League Boycott or Drop It

GENEVA, Switzerland — (AP)—Russia pressed Great Britain Thursday night to take one of two positions on sanctions against Italy. Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign commissar, urged Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, to consider these two definite standards.

1. Abandon war sanctions against Italy and wipe the slate clean for reorganization of the League.
2. Lead the move for drastic enforcement of new and more effective penalties against Italian aggression in East Africa.

Luciano's Partner Tells of Earnings

N. Y. Disorderly Houses "Take" as High as $5,000 a Week

NEW YORK — (AP)—Under the stare of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, Al Weiner told the witness stand Friday how he followed the career of his convict father and lived off the earnings of prostitutes.

Weiner said the income from 35 houses of prostitution in New York ran as high as $5,000 a week.

First Deliveries of Milk Are Due in Hope Saturday

10 Trucks Starting Off on Milk Routes for Kraft Factory

2 PAYDAYS, MONTH

Price to Farmers Will Be Posted by Kraft 15 Days in Advance

Trucks will roll up to the Kraft Phoenix Cheese corporation's plant on Fifth and Walnut streets early Saturday morning making first deliveries of milk and marking the actual opening of Hope's new cheese factory.

The plant is opening with 10 trucks routes, the machines being owned by the individual route operators. The system is expected to build up to 25 or 30 milk routes within a short time.

The Hope factory, a direct operation of the Kraft Phoenix corporation, represents a large installation of the latest cheese-making machinery with an initial capacity of 25,000 pounds of whole milk daily.

G. M. Crowe, Manager
Plant Manager G. M. Crowe, manager of the Kraft factory at Berkeley, Ark., was promoted to the new and larger plant here.

With him is Virgil Stone of Sulphur, Okla., who will be cheese-maker. There will be two other men in the local organization, based on an estimated production of a starting load of 10,000 pounds of milk daily, the personnel increasing when the load reaches 20,000 pounds daily.

Supervising the operation of the milk routes is R. F. Berry, fieldman for Kraft.

The plant was installed by Frank Kraft, factory man who is now winding up several months' stay here. C. L. Tiesler, division superintendent of factories, was in charge of negotiations preceding the installation.

The plant site is that of the old National Guard armory, acquired from N. P. O'Neal under a long-term lease by the Kraft Phoenix corporation.

To Post Milk Prices
Manager Crowe announced Friday that milk prices will be published the first and middle of each month, governing 15 days in advance — so that the milk producer will always be sure of his price well in advance of deliveries at the local factory.

Milk checks are mailed out twice a month, but the company "holds back" two weeks' pay farmers' will build up a credit at the local plant from May 16 to June 1, and checks will go out on June 16, and every two weeks thereafter.

Milk prices, it is reported, hold fairly steady during the summer, with a vorters were not available.

Poppy Sale to Be Held on Saturday

Legion Auxiliary Schedules Event Postponed From Week Ago

Sale of memorial poppies, postponed last week because of rain, will be handled on the streets here Saturday. It was announced by Mrs. Arthur Swankie of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The memorial poppies have been the means of providing employment to hundreds of disabled World War veterans confined in government hospitals throughout the United States.

The making of these poppies, to be worn in honor of World War dead, is reserved strictly for the disabled, and provides earnings for these men, their wives and families.

Borah Ultimatum Given Republicans

Threatens to Bolt Unless Monopoly Is Made Campaign Issue

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) Senator Borah warned Friday that unless the Republicans select a presidential candidate who will "take hold of the question of monopoly" he will pursue the issue outside the own party.

He said his own presidential aspirations meant little beside the "real issues," which included:
1. Rejuvenation of the Republican party.
2. End monopoly and price-fixing by the fed.
3. Aloofness from foreign entanglements.
4. The need for an independent judiciary.

Your Baby's Health

By DR. MORRIS HISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Training the child to control his bladder, to assist the training him to control his bladder. In teaching the baby bowel control, these seven suggestions may be followed:

- 1—Begin during the first month to train your baby, to use the chamber.
- 2—Hold him comfortably in your lap on the chamber. Do this at regular times: when he wakes up, when he is ready for his nap, and before each feeding.
- 3—Change diapers promptly when wet. This helps in his training. The baby, soon, learns to feel uncomfortable in a wet diaper.
- 4—As soon as the baby sits up easily of his own accord, have him use a chair in the bathroom, instead of the chamber in your lap.
- 5—Leave him on the chair not longer than five minutes. Do not let him have toys to play with.
- 6—When the baby can walk, successfully, take off the diapers and put him in jersey panties.
- 7—Do not use rubber panties; they irritate the skin. When traveling, use the large, loose, rubberized diaper. Have an extra one to place in your lap, or on the car or train seat.

It is important to teach the child not to delay after he gets on the toilet. If he is permitted to sit at the toilet playing with a toy or looking at a book, or otherwise amusing himself, without giving his main attention to the matter concerned, he will form a habit which may eventually result in constipation.

The baby must learn to attempt to have an action of the bowel just as soon as he feels contact with the toilet seat.

Many mothers, because of excess modesty, teach the child all sorts of tricks to indicate that he wishes to go to the toilet. Queer words are used for the purpose, and also strange gestures.

It is just as well to realize that this is a normal activity of the bowel, and that the child should learn from the beginning the suitable words in relation to this activity.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

While it is right and proper to leave children pretty well alone when they play, it is a good idea to give them something to play with. Next to that, running, a close second.

At first, when released from winter's prison, youngsters are satisfied to behave like any other young animals with the rope cut.

They get enough thrill just running, climbing, pushing and yelling. But the time soon comes, after muscles are fairly well stretched and bones warmed by the sun, when the poetry of mere motion no longer charms.

The skipping-rope, the swing, the see-saw, or whatever the neighbor's child possesses in the way of entertainment are quite likely to lose their small patrons. Even common carriers such as velocipedes, wagons and scooters may be abandoned in unexpected places. Mr. Smith is returning Jamie's wheel "that he left over in our yard."

Mrs. Jones is ringing up to ask if the green wagon over in the last doesn't belong to Marry.

Play Needs a Purpose

In the meantime whole cohorts of the herd sit about on steps or loll on porch swings. They say they "have nothing to do."

"What?" exclaims Mother. "What that sandpile and the slide and the new garden set? Nothing to do. I declare."

A Book a Day

By Bruce Catton

When the last of the great cattle companies passed from the western range a few years ago, the cowboy—one of America's most romantic figures—disappeared with them. He was essentially a rough-riding, square-shooting philosopher, individualist, and friend.

Philip Ashton Rollins in his youth learned to know and love many of these cowboy characters. Several years ago he published a book about them—"The Cowboy," it was strictly a definitive work, tracing the terminology found in the business.

And now Rollins, fearing that the real character of this figure might be lost in the inaccuracy of the pictures presented today in westerns and "pulp" magazines, has expanded his book—"The Cowboy," revised (Scraper #31) is a painstaking review of the whole cattle industry, dating back to its Spanish origins. It is, moreover, a valuable historical document, depicting the everyday life of this out-of-doors fellow who wore high-heeled boots and drank water from his hat.

You get a fine understanding of the cowboy's character, for instance, in passages like this: "Charity is sure a good thing, but there's no use making a damn good of yourself an overdoing it."

Mr. Rollins spent years in the collection of his "cowboyiana," if it can properly be called that. The result is a very human book. It's good history, too.

The Chicago marital mix-up, in which the host's wife scrubbed a guest's back, wouldn't have happened in the dry era, since the tub would have been full of gin.

Hollywood

By Paul Harrison

HOLLYWOOD.—There's scarcely a star in talkietown who doesn't make personal appearances at hospitals now and then. For treatment, not charity. A couple of sneezes or a twinge in the region of the appendix are serious portents; when film careers are so completely dependent on health.

So, confined on the slightest provocation, and often when they're not really sick, the players make unruly patients. Most of them view the situation humorously and pull innocent little gags on doctors, nurses, and visiting friends. The friends have their jokes, too.

Greatly to the alarm of stern physicians, some of the patients play hockey. While Director Leo McCarey was recuperating from an attack of Malta fever, he hired an ambulance and took an afternoon off to see the races at Santa Anita.

Likewise, Walter Plunkett, a costume designer, showed up at a picture party on a stretcher and with a nurse in attendance. He was recovering from an operation, and stayed only a few minutes.

Last time Jack Oakie was hospitalized, Loretta Young presented him with a nightgown and cap decorated with huge red crosses. He wore the outfit whenever friends came to see him.

Cecil B. De Mille is the only director who ever star. A story conference in a hospital room. His temperance chart rose like an Alpine skyline, after he had battled with six writers for more than two hours, and doctors refused permission for another huddle next day.

Richard Arlen's comic hospital experience is retold after several years. He was KO'd by aricocheting bullet during the filming of a gangster picture. No one guessed the wound was superficial and he was rushed to the nearest hospital. It was a small one, and rooms were scarce. Arlen woke up in the maternity ward.

Tough on Doctor

Maek Gordon, the song writer, went to a hospital to reduce and dropped from 333 pounds to an even 300, despite the efforts of other flimflies, who'd dine with him and order steaks and baked potatoes.

Vince Barnett, Hollywood's champion ribber, pulled his famous hard-of-hearing gag on Herbert Mundin when they were first introduced at the latter's sickbed. Mundin all but split his sides with shouting, and the doctors threatened to kick Barnett down the elevator shaft.

Carole Lombard's hospital party, after she recovered from the flu, brought guests dressed as doctors and nurses. They arrived in ambulances and sat around on hospital cots sipping cocktails from medicine bottles. A hospital shower for Margot Graham, about to lose her appendix, netted her 16 hot-water bottles.

Outclassing people who are forever talking about their operations, one of the screen's big silent-day stars is said to have had his operation re-enacted in rather horrid detail for a camera, and for years afterward he showed the film to friends.

In the same era was a press agent's attempt to stage a wedding between two hospitalized celebrities. They balked.

Competition is brisk among Hollywood hospitals for movie patients don't worry about costs. Lavish suites have been built to attract the ailing richies, and one small establishment

Berlitz Boundary of Peaceful Swiss

Mountain Republic Protecting Self After Century Disarmament

BERLITZ, (AP)—Switzerland has been watching her frontiers and its neutrality with a keen eye for more than a century. The Swiss have been satisfied with the Alps to defend their neutrality and independence. Only a few small blockhouses guarded strategic passes where the landwehr, Swiss frontier troops, watched for invaders.

After the war Swiss military experts watched their rearming neighbors with alarm. Broad highways led from the German-Swiss frontier at Basel toward Besancon in France through unprotected Swiss valleys.

Dread Belgium's Role.

If war comes, asked Swiss army men, could not Switzerland be "the next Belgium" if Germany should pick the most vulnerable frontier for a dash to France?

Switzerland's answer appeared in the form of a military budget of 235 million Swiss francs (about $75,500,000), the largest sum for any budget in Swiss history. Much of it was earmarked for fortifications.

Swiss socialists immediately began a campaign to have all the money spent in strengthening the German and Italian frontiers where nazis and fascists ruled.

The federal council, however, announced that all the frontiers would be fortified. Whether "all the frontiers" included the 20-mile border of the tiny principality of Liechtenstein was not stated, but Frenchmen were both surprised and hurt to hear that Swiss troops were building earthworks opposite the French frontier.

French Protest Stiffed

Reports that the fortifications were to be reversible so that they could be used to fight an army marching through Switzerland toward France, calmed French protests along with the gentle Swiss reminder that the last armies to invade the cantons were French troops under Napoleon.

Austria's frontier is also to be guarded by earthworks but the Swiss frontiers on Italy and Germany are to be more strongly fortified. Swiss men already have worried the authorities by their activities and Mussolini, who has a long memory, was finger-printed by the Swiss police in the days before fascism.

Fortification of the Italian border is not difficult, for the Alps themselves form far better barriers than man-made blockhouses. Most of the money, Swiss military men said, is being spent in preparing to block a German invasion along the 200-mile German frontier.

America's Quads Set Out to See Canada's Quins

Off to see the babies of whom they have heard so much, the 21-year-old Keys quadruplets of Hollis, Okla., are shown above as they set out from Waco, Tex., to visit Canada's famed "quins," the Dionnes. Eager to see the babies and get an approximate idea of how they themselves appeared, back in 1915, when they were renowned as Oklahoma's celebrated "Bunch of Keys," Mona, Mary, Roberta, and Leota, left to right, are shown with President Pat M. Neff, leaving Baylor University, where they are co-eds. They will greet the Dionnes as representatives of the Texas Centennial.

U. S. Too Uncouth to Enjoy Cricket

Britisher Shocked by Our Free-and-Easy Remarks at Ball Game

LONDON — (AP) — The rough-and-tumble American sports fan, who believes in very free speech and lots of it, is the greatest menace to be overcome before cricket can supplant baseball as America's favorite sport, believes Shane Leslie, a scholarly British writer.

"The American crowd would, of course, barrack (ed's note: that's British for razz) the players to distraction," he writes in his book, "American Wonderland."

"I watched a baseball game and was pained at the expressions thrown at the umpire, to say nothing of the desperate rudeness screamed at the players, although they were all doing their best."

The division into "gentlemen" and "players," he adds, would be a hateful and odious distinction in America, "alone condemning the game in free-born eyes."

The "gentleman" cricketer, it may be pointed out, is an amateur. He gets a "Mr." before his name in the lineup. The professional is just a "player," and he must be very careful not to get mixed up and walk into the clubhouse lounge.

Chicken Pox or "Sorehead"

Chicken pox, commonly called "sorehead," is a contagious disease of your chickens and wherever it once occurs there is danger that it will again break out. For this reason the birds on all farms where outbreaks have occurred should be vaccinated for the disease.

This disease does not cause heavy mortality, but usually causes a heavy reduction in the number of eggs laid, which makes it an expensive disease.

Experimental data show that the laying flock should be vaccinated before they start laying. The best time is when the birds are from 10 to 14 weeks old.

The simplest and most economical method of vaccination for chicken pox is the stab method. To use this method, the flock of birds are cooped so they can be handled easily. The blade of a small-bladed knife is wrapped so that about one-eighth inch of tip projects. The knife is dipped into the vaccine and the bird is stabbed twice on the thigh just breaking the skin.

In time this place scabs over. The scabs finally dropping off. Care should be exercised in handling the vaccine to see that it does not get on the unfeathered parts of the birds, or is scattered about the premises.

The cowpea has been a popular crop in Arkansas for some time, and will probably continue to be one of the leading summer legume crops. This is especially true on the sandy soils and on thin upland soils, where soybeans grow and in their yields of hay and seed.

Practically every variety of any commercial importance was included in the cowpea variety test which has been conducted by the Arkansas Experiment Station of the University College of Agriculture.

Varieties leading in seed production were Groit, New Era, Brown Sugar Crowder, Arlington, Whipperville, the Black Unknown, Red Ripper and the Early Black.

Leading forage producing varieties include Brabham, Monetta, Iron, Warren's New Hybrid, Wonderful, Red Ripper and Taylor.

Most farmers want general purpose varieties. The best of these include Brabham, Groit, New Era, Whipperville and Iron. Two of these varieties Brabham and Iron, are resistant to root-knot or nematode. Brabham, a cross between Iron and Whipperville, grows the better in its habit of growth and should be used instead of Whipperville on root-knot infected soils.

No other cultivated piece of land of the same area is as valuable to a farm family as the home garden, provided of course, that the garden receives the proper attention. But, important as the garden is as a source of food, it does not supply all the food that a family needs. Some field crops can make a big contribution to the food needs of the family.

Following are suggested acreages of certain crops to supply food for a family of five people, assuming that the soil is of average fertility:

Corn, for meal, fresh corn and hominy, one acre

Peas, one-fourth acre (such as the iflorina, is considered a certainty to make the Olympic team as a 400-meter man.

Smallwood, described as a power runner like Ray Barbati with a stride like that of Alan Waudring, returned 48.1 seconds in the quarter to represent Archie Williams, the California negro sophomore.

No one else has turned back the expected Williams this spring. The Bear quarter-mile was credited with 47.4 seconds for the 440 against Washington. For that matter, Smallwood was clocked in 47 seconds as anchor when his mile relay did 3:14.8 to repulse Stanford.

With Smallwood, Williams, and Ellinwood burning up the paths, it behooves Syracuse Eddie O'Brien and U. C. L. A.'s Jimmy Lu Valle, the Olympic "winter book" favorites, to best themselves.

The 440 seemed to be one event that required no additional faces this year, yet it has produced more bona fide luminaries than any other event so far.

Brown Crowder, Blackeye, Rice peas.

Sorghum, one-half acre, any pure variety of sweet sorghum, except the Ambers, is satisfactory. It is safer to buy seed from a local farmer who is known to have pure seed.

Sweet Potatoes, one-half acre.

Irish Potatoes, one-tenth acre.

Peanuts, one-eighth acre.

Popcorn, one-tenth acre.

Pumpkin, interplanted with corn.

Argentine Fleet to Be Increased

Cruiser and Smaller Ships Will Be Added on 10-Year Plan

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — A new cruiser and several smaller ships may be added to the Argentine navy, strongest in South America, this year.

A 10-year naval modernization plan approved by congress in 1926 expires in September and the ministry of marine is contemplating full filling the final step, which would add a cruiser, three destroyers and three submarines to the fleet. Seven mine-sweepers now are building in Argentine yards.

The Argentine fleet now includes two battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers, three submarines with a mothership, five mine-sweepers and a schoolship.

The increased interest in the old reliable coops should cause a corresponding increase in the attention given to the different varieties. There are many varieties of coops, and they differ greatly in their type of

Girls Spend More Than College Men

Average $695 Per Year, Against $497 for College Men

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP) — As a spender of dad's money, a college girl outdoes a college boy, say students at Capital university here.

A survey shows that it costs $695.43 to keep the average girl in school a year, whereas a man spends only $497.71 annually while acquiring an education.

It's what they eat, rather than what they study, that costs the most. Meals for the average male student total about $120.44 for a college year, while Betty Coed spends $5.39 a week for board.

The average girl spends $2.91 a week for clothes and the average man only $25.97 a year.

Men students at Capital spend an average of $18.28 annually for recreation and $11.89 for refreshments, undoubtedly largely spent on coeds who turn in no bill at all for refreshments and one of only $9.80 for recreation.

Room rent costs coeds $89.91 a year, and college men only $56.57. Books, cost women students more than men, and coeds spend more for stationery than do their male fellow students.

The coeds report they receive 85 per cent of what they spend from home and earn the rest. Men students say their parents pay 80 per cent of their bills.

Filipinos Best of U.S. Sharpshooters

Igorrote Soldiers of Philippine Scouts Draw Deadly Bead

By R. P. CHONIN, JR.
MANILA—(AP)—The best shots in the United States army are the Igorrote soldiers of the Philippine Scouts, natives of the mountain province of northern Luzon.

The Igorrotes were headhunters not so many years ago, and even today some of the wild tribesmen prize the head of an enemy more than any other trophy.

There are two companies of Igorrote Scouts, A and B of the 45th Infantry. They number less than 200 and are stationed at Camp John Hay, in Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, 150 miles from Manila.

Covered High From Start
The companies were organized some 20 years ago and from the first their men distinguished themselves as marksmen. They were quick to realize the superiority of the white man's weapons and became pat students of "bang sticks."

"They spend hours on the practice ranges, sighting and shooting from various positions. Many of the white soldiers regard target practice as boring routine."

The Igorrote, of a war-like nature, enlists in the Scouts for life, and this fact has contributed to his skill as a marksman.

Unusually good records have been made by the Igorrotes this year. Company A had an average of 215 out of

Deformed Feet and Long Hair Are Banned by Interior Province

NANKING—(AP)—Admirers of old fashioned feminine beauty in the interior province of Honan must change their ideas on what is winsome and attractive, for the authorities have started a campaign against "lily feet" and long hair.

The cruel practice of binding little girls' feet so that they would resemble the lotus lily in bud has been illegal for years, but in the interior girls still are deformed to meet traditional standards of grace.

Shingled hair for little girls and shoulder length bobs for young ladies is another order of the new day in a land where long braids or coiled tresses once were marks of gentility.

Poisonous wild parsnips are a menace to animals in Nevada and also have taken human life.

A possible 250 while Company B hit 217.

No Funds For Ohio Shoot
Every man in Company B won the rating of a marksman by qualifying in rifle, pistol, automatic rifle and boy-on-boy. They won 23 expert and 23 sharpshooters ratings.

Three of the Igorrotes tallied scores which would qualify them for the national army shooting contests at Camp Perry, O., but no funds are available for their transportation. They are Private Francisco Jado, a Bonifacio Igorrote, who scored 238; Private Pedro Arnold, also a Bonifacio and Private Maddaleno Dunuan, an Ifugao Igorrote, each with 236.

The Igorrotes hit high averages every year, and the records show that their scores, since they were organized, are higher than any other units, company for company, in the whole army.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—One of the yarns you don't hear any more in the gossip trading posts of the capital is the one about Joe Kennedy, ex-chairman of SEC, being made secretary of the treasury.

Tubs of butter have been spread on the Kennedy by writers who dwell on the allegations that Kennedy made a personal sacrifice by accepting the SEC job. They said that it was a fine thing to have such an able, sound, two-fisted millionaire in the government and that it would be good for the country if Roosevelt could recruit more such high-minded and sane conservatives, filled with zeal for the public service.

Of course this didn't quite square with the conception of certain cynical insiders.

Kennedy, a Wall Street man who had participated in one of the stock market pools exposed by Ferdinand Pecora, was one of the four men who had originally tossed in $10,000 apiece for Roosevelt's pre-convention expenses. Hence these cynics held, he could demand any job he wanted, even in the face of general opposition, and they felt that he came to make the SEC safe for Wall Street.

He's Making Hay Now
Be that as it may, if Kennedy made a personal sacrifice, he certainly has been making up for lost time.

He has gone into the corporate reorganization business on a large scale. Prospects for new securities in such reorganizations must be approved by the SEC, which is loaded with Kennedy's friends, many of them brought here by Kennedy himself. It is also being remarked in Washington that the Democratic National Committee owes Kennedy money, which gives him access to Jim Farley and the White House. Chairman James M. Landis was Kennedy's choice as his successor.

Possibly because of his SEC pres-

Truce in Probe Is Townsend 'Break'

Hearings Resumption Will Coincide With Arrival of Caravan

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON — By postponing questioning of Dr. Francis E. Townsend the house investigators appear to have given the $200-a-month old age pension plan a "breathing spell" just when many congressmen hoped it would be "liquidated" before election.

Dr. Townsend could not have arranged it better had he stage-managed the whole thing. Indeed he had a hand in it, for when the committee found postponement was necessary he suggested it be for two weeks. He thus will take the stand in the capacious house caucus room just as the automobile caravan of elderly Townsend adherents reaches Washington on its well publicized journey from the Pacific coast.

Congressmen Irritated
It was an irritating development for many house members and senators. Save for its few outspoken supporters in congress, those who mention the Townsend plan at all are rather caustic. But regardless of what they personally think of the plan, members of congress see it as a trouble maker at home unless it is shaken apart by the investigating committee.

The investigation started much to the liking of congress, accompanied by a break between Townsend and his principal associate, Robert E. Clements, who generally was credited with creating the working organization around the founder's idea.

Investigations to California
In order to make the Townsend examination a thorough one, the committee managers sent investigators to California to dig up additional information. Townsend took the stand on the appointed day and a shamed committee had to announce publicly it was not ready to go.

House members fear now the investigation may turn into another sounding board for Townsend arguments. Dr. Townsend thinks it will.

Arguments long have been advanced that the plan, even with the best of success, could not win a majority in the senate inside of two elections, regardless of its treatment by the house. Only one third of the members of the senate come up for election each two years, and not a member of the present senate has spoken for the idea.

Title to nearly a billion and a half acres of land still remains with the United States government.

The Centennial

County Celebrations
The Arkansas Centennial Calendar is crowded with weekly county events. During the past week several large events have been held and many of state-wide interest are planned for coming weeks.

One of the largest events in the particular section of the state was the annual Agri-Home Economics Day at Arkansas Polytechnic College in Russellville on Thursday, May 5. The pageant was professionally staged by college students during a two hour and a half period. Authentic costumes and settings added to the interest of this pageant which depicted 100 years of history in Arkansas.

Paragould had a busy seven days. Beginning on Tuesday was Child Health week with parades, contests and concerts. The annual flower show of the Paragould Garden club was held Wednesday with special exhibits of Arkansas flowers and shrubs. The county Council of Home Demonstration clubs held an all day meeting Thursday. That night the first Greene County Centennial dance was given at the Kingsway club. The baseball season was opened for the town on Friday with the first official game between Osceola and Paragould of the Northeast Arkansas Baseball league. Beautification work has progressed on highways, parks and school and church grounds.

The Echo of Paragould High School published its Centennial edition on Friday, May 1. Congratulations, Echo! for the splendid edition carrying pictures of the old and new state capitals, of Harmon playfield and of stories on the historic background of Arkansas and Greene county.

Probably the most elaborate affair of the coming week will be the Clark county centennial and pageant on Friday, May 15, at Arkadelphia when all the towns of the county will join in producing a pageant depicting the history of that county. Miss Edna Earle Epperson of Amity will reign as queen. A parade more than a mile long will culminate in the pageant which opens with De Soto's coming and closes with a view of the present educational and social system of Arkansas.

On that same day Conway High School will hold its Centennial observance, and the P. T. A. of Mena will present the schools in a pageant. On May 16 the schools of Jasper, Newton county, will give a May Pole dance. The Monticello A. and M. College commencement will be held on May 27. The annual fox hunt of Benton county will be held at Sliam Springs, May 18-19.

Several counties have outlined further events to use commission during the past week. On May 30 the Parthenon Consolidated school district of Newton county will have an all day program of ball games, wrestling, races, old fiddlers contest, square dancing and an old fashioned minstrel. The county singing convention will be held May 23.

More than 400 school children and adults will take part in the Shawnee school pageant planned for May 22 in Osceola. Wadell, Pecan Point and Whitton schools will also be represented in the cast.

Mississippi county will observe Centennial Week in Osceola beginning Saturday, May 23 and ending Saturday, May 30. A street parade on Friday, May 29, will be led by Christian Brothers college band of Memphis, consisting of 60 instruments. A parade will be given at 7 a. m. with a cast of 500. This will be followed by a street dance.

Officials at the Centennial Commission headquarters emphasize the importance of each county's communicating plans to the publicly department in advance of scheduled events that the calendar may be kept up to date and that adequate publicity may be given the splendid work being done in each locality.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief organs of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they fail to pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

This tag on every R&G used car tells its own story of certified quality.

R&G used cars and trucks represent a new certified quality in the automobile world. You buy them on facts. They must measure up to a new high standard in every detail.

After purchase, the car is yours to drive for two days. At any time within 48 hours after delivery, you may bring it back, and receive your money in full. And this pledge of quality in every detail is also underwritten for 10 full days after delivery, if any part of the car should fall short of the standard that has been guaranteed!

Your Ford dealer will make you a generous allowance on your old car. In average condition, it will probably make the down-payment, and you won't need cash now. The balance will be arranged as suits you best.

Visit the nearest R&G display. See the largest and most varied selection of really fine automobiles your Ford dealer has ever offered. Notice the moderate prices!

Then pick out your R&G used car—and drive it home with pride! Convenient U.C.-C. Terms.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By J. S. Klein

LEADER IN EXILE

FRANCISCO DE PAULA SANTANDER, great revolutionary patriot of Colombia, had fought under Simon Bolivar, "Liberator of South America," for independence from Spain. He had become vice president, and actual governor, of the newly formed Republic of Colombia when, after one of Bolivar's frequent expeditions, a plot against the liberator's life was discovered.

Santander was accused of complicity and sentenced to death. Later, the sentence commuted to banishment, Santander traveled in Europe. In 1832, the Republic of New Granada was formed, and Santander was recalled to fill the presidency of that infant government. For four years, he directed the progress of his country, and encouraged public education, science, and art.

After his presidency, he was elected to the national congress for two terms, and died May 5, 1840, at the age of only 48. His portrait appears on several stamps of Colombia. One is shown here.

There will be a children's day program here the fourth Sunday in May, everyone is invited to come.

Mr. Yeager and family have gone to Hot Springs for a visit with his daughters.

Mrs. M. E. Atkins of near Texarkana is visiting her children.

Mrs. Eld Shupley of Smackover is visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sutton.

Mrs. Harrison Worthing has been quite ill but is improved at this time.

Mrs. Nadine Wren is spending a while with her mother, Mrs. Poole of DeAnn.

Mrs. Leon Willis has returned home after a visit with her parents of Okolona.

Misses Ruby Zack and Lena Bell Sullivan of Texarkana spent Mothers' day with their parents and attended church here.

Miss Frances Willis is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Sherman Roberts of Hope.

Mrs. R. T. Hembree has been ill for some time but has improved now.

Mrs. Vera Reeves of Centerville visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Derryberry Wednesday.

Mrs. B. C. Thomas of Little Rock has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Derryberry and family.

Mrs. Maud Elliott spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. R. T. Hembree and Mrs. M. E. Atkins.

Mrs. Willie Hoover of Murfreesboro is attending the bed side of her mother, Mrs. Harrison Worth and also her sister, Mrs. Bill Gray of Prescott.

The mother's day program was well attended here Sunday.

Double Arrives to Visit Shirley

What! Another Shirley Temple picture? Well, almost. That's Ginette Marboeuf-Hovet, picked in Paris as the tiny film star's double. Ginette registers enjoyment (of that plate of ice cream she's holding) on her arrival at New York to visit Shirley. Compare her with the real Shirley, pictured below.

Announcing He's Now Proud Papa

"Why wouldn't they be handsome? Ain't I their papa?" roars Rex, the star of Brooklyn's Prospect Park zoo. Four cubs were born to his mate, handsome, 2 1/2-year-old Helen, giving him something to roar about.

UNLESS his death sentence is reversed on appeal, Perry H. Carroll will be the first man to die in Wyoming's new lethal gas chamber. He recently was convicted of the murder of C. C. Barnard, railroad division superintendent.

Quins' Second Birthday Draws Near

A TOAST TO THEIR SECOND BIRTHDAY
TWO WEEKS AWAY!

Marie—"I saw the funniest thing, just before dinner!"

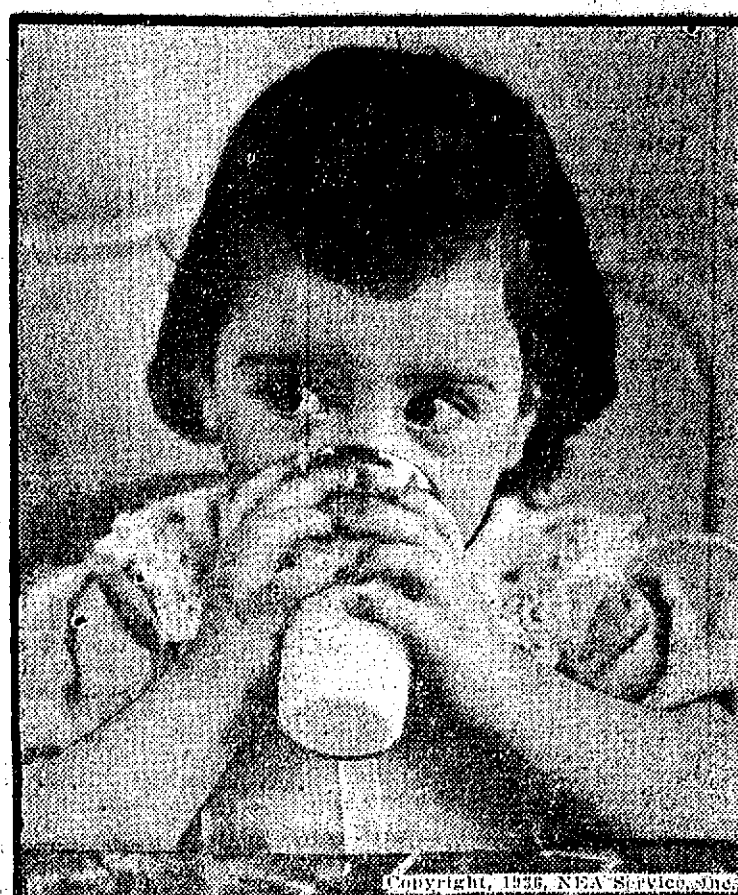

Emilie—"Want to play peck-a-boo? I see you!"

Yvonne—"I'll attend to that glass of milk directly!"

Husky and happy with their second birthday only two weeks distant, the Dionne quintuplets are fully capable of dealing with their own milk problem. Here you see them handling their own glasses, a ceremony performed four times a day. The radiant health of the five blossoming little girls is clearly shown at meal time in the nursery, when food disappears with startling rapidity. A toast to the quintuplets' second birthday! Watch The Star for more new pictures of the babies getting ready for their birthday party.

Cecile—"Don't mind me! I'm having a good time quietly!"

Annette—"Yes, yes, I understand! Go on!"

Italy's Governor of Addis Ababa

So confident of taking Addis Ababa were Italian leaders that Giuseppe Bottai (above) was sent to accompany the troops who captured the Ethiopian capital so he might immediately assume his duties as governor of the city. He is said to be the first man of the invading forces to enter the city.

Bond of $200,000 for Karpis' Host

His bond set at $200,000 on a charge of harboring Alvin Karpis, imprisoned gang leader, Fred Hunter is shown above, handcuffed, handkerchief at his face, after his arraignment in New Orleans. Hunter, alleged former minor Ohio gangster, and a woman were taken into custody by G-men when Karpis was captured.

STARRING IN STORK'S QUADRUPLE VISIT IN JERSEY

Here They Are—Frances, Frank, Felix and Ferdinand Kasper—and Rest of the Family

These are New Jersey's already famous Kasper quadruplets, pictured during one of their rare excursions out of the security of the incubator in which they are kept because of their five-week premature birth. During their first days they gained weight on a whisky and sugar diet, prescribed by Dr. Frank F. Jani, of Passaic, N. J., who attended their arrival. Left to right they and their weights at birth are: Frances, 3 pounds, 10 ounces; Frank, 3 pounds 4 1/2 ounces; Felix, 2 pounds 13 ounces, and Ferdinand, 3 pounds 9 ounces.

Now Mama and Papa of Six

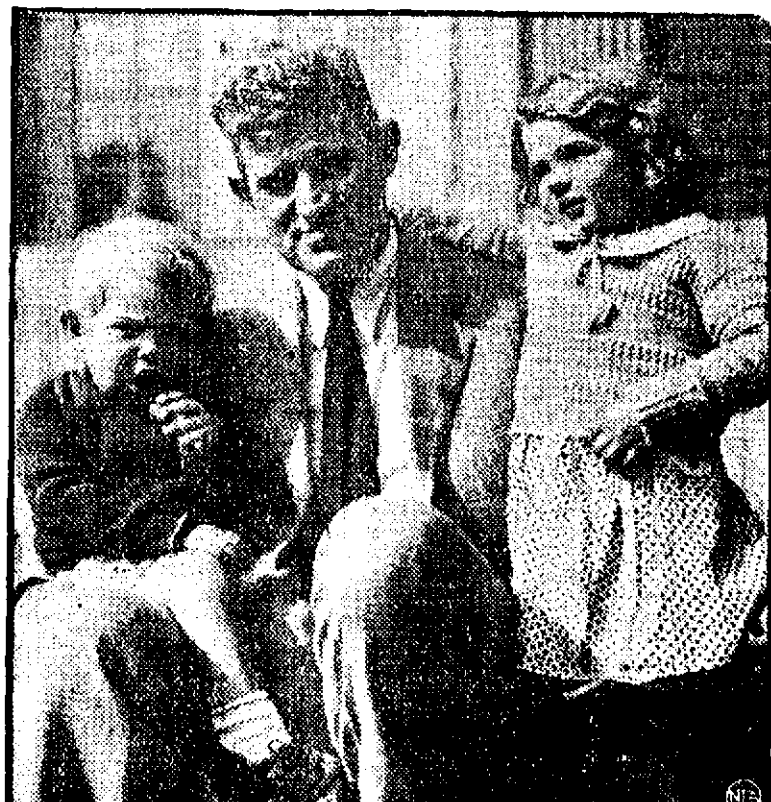

Dispair over their straitened circumstances banished by pride in being the parents of New Jersey's first quadruplets, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kasper are shown at the Passaic, N. J., hospital planning the future of their four newborn children. They were childhood sweethearts in Germany.

Unless New Jersey makes the Kasper quadruplets its official wards and establishes other living arrangements, the four babies will be brought to the three-room apartment on the ground floor of this house at Little Ferry, N. J., home of their $22-a-week machinist father and mother.

Big Brother and Sister

Already the father of two children, Ellen, three and a half years old, and Ralph, eighteen months, with whom he is pictured, Emil Kasper is wondering how to make his $22-a-week salary feed also the quadruplets which his wife unexpectedly presented him. Ellen and Ralph look strong and healthy despite their parents' hard times.

Character Actors Have It 'on' Stars

Stars Get the Glory, But the 'Bit' Players Get Plenty of Work

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD. The stars may get the glory, but the character man—so called—Nigel Bruce—gets the full joy of Hollywood.

The portly British actor, who likes comfortable living as well as a game of cricket, pointed out:

"It's marvelous, nothing short. I am engaged on a picture. I worked yesterday, and it was rather uncomfortable heavy costumes and all that, and then I am not on call again for the next five days. The stars, now, seldom get a day off during a picture."

Other character actors, for this and other reasons, feel pretty much the same way.

Roles Are Plentiful
A "character" can work in two or more films at once, if he wishes. Once

For All Kinds of INSURANCE
See
Roy Anderson
and Company

he is hired for a film with a time guarantee, his pay goes on—besides the vacation Nigel Bruce relishes with so much gusto.

Good "characters," as a rule, are in fairly constant demand. Casting directors more and more are looking to finished actors even for minor roles. Audiences often don't know the names of these actors, but they know their faces and in time come to expect good performances from the actors behind these faces.

Veterans like Douglas Dumbrille, William Frawley, Porter Hall, Nigel Bruce, Herbert Mundin, Jessie Ralph, Jane Darwell, Luis Alberni and George Barbier may vary in the billing they receive. But when a role fits, names like those are likely to get first call.

"A character actor never is expected to live up to the public conception of a star's life. He does not feel obligated to maintain a large wardrobe for show purposes, or large automobiles, or large staffs of household help. He can live in a small house or a large one, can entertain simply or elaborately or not at all, but he never has to give a grand scale party.

He can keep constantly before the public—playing in seven films on an average to a star's one—and he doesn't have to worry about growing old or losing his manly beauty. "Characters" often improve with age—witness C. Aubrey Smith, who right now is higher in pictures than ever before.

There is always the "danger," of course, that a "character" may fall in to stardom. The late Marie Dressler, May Robson, William Powell, Frank Morgan, Guy Kibbee, to mention a few did that.

'Snake Murder' Charged to Pair

Facing charges of the "rattle-snake murder" of Mrs. Mary Busch James, Charles H. Hope, left, and Robert S. James, five-times-married barber, are shown after their indictment in Los Angeles. Each accused the other in alleged confessions that the woman was strangled down while a snake bit her and then was drowned in a bathtub. Hope is alleged to have admitted that they killed the woman to collect $21,000 insurance.

Homecoming, Event for County-Seat

Many Old-Timers Appear for Annual Mother's Day Observance

The fourteenth annual Mother's Day celebration, held in Washington last Sunday seemed completely successful from everybody's point of view.

The unfavorable weather on Saturday cleared away and Sunday's attendance was much larger than was expected in view of the weather.

A number of old citizens who had never before attended a Mother's Day event were among those present, and most of those who yearly come back for a get-together were on hand. There were some, too, who unable to come for various reasons, sent back their best wishes by those coming.

The Rev. Thos. Brewster, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hope, delivered the Homecoming sermon at the Presbyterian church, along the theme of Mother's Day. Dr. J. C. Williams, local Presbyterian pastor, exchanged pulpits with the Rev. Mr. Brewster for the day.

At noon the visitors were guests of the people of Washington for the noon time meal on the court house square. The afternoon was spent in various ways.

Jim Dugger borrowed colored Jim Martin's ox-cart and rode himself, Leo Andrews of Pine Bluff and Walter Simms of Texarkana, around the court house block several times, as they said they used to do some 50-or-so years back.

Quite a number of the visitors did not sign in the register kept for the purpose, but those from out of the county who did register therein are as follows:

Texarkana visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shields and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. W. K. Read, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robertson and family, J. A. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Seigel Dunham and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Barnett, Miss Allie Johnson, J. H. Horner, Walter Johnson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simms, Mrs. Lottie Conway, Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Carpenter, Mrs. Lightfoot, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Thomas.

El Dorado: Mr. and Mrs. John D. Trimble and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Trimble and Miss Virginia Trimble, Willie Johnson.

Little Rock and North Little Rock: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Campbell and family, Robert A. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Elmore and family, Miss Mattie Royston, Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Bate, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bale, Porter Bale, Mrs. Nora McWilliams, Mrs. Alice City Ridgill, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jett.

Various others as follows: H. P. English, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. English, Miss Inez English of Bonham, Texas; George L. English, and Mrs. Sarah English McDonald, Sanford, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ray, Lou Ann, Ark.; J. T. Nesbitt, Gilliam, La.; C. C. Anderson, Center Point, Ark.

Mrs. W. T. Burch, Mrs. C. J. Lasvey, Mrs. W. C. Felder, Dallas, Texas; Jas. M. Williams, Wilma Jane Williams, Judge and Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, Mrs. Carter McGregor, Wichita Falls, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Lee and Miss Dorothy Virginia Lee, Marshall, Texas; Mrs. J. B. Laski, Ft. Worth, Texas; Miss Martha Jane Lasky, Beeville, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dora Bearden, Mrs. Virginia Ellis Veltin, Mrs. A. J. Gray and son Jackie, Miss Mildred Ellis, Dodson, Leonard, Leo Andrews, Pine Bluff. Mrs. W. T. Simms, Jefferson, Texas; Miss Sallie Horton, Camden, Ark.; Mrs. LaVerne Wilson Puddelphatt and son Harry Burton of Pine Bluff; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wilson and Mrs. Annie Stringfellow, Horatio; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Black, Conway, Ark.; Mrs. Eva Harkness Simms, Jefferson, Texas; Mrs. Ruby Wilson, Mansfield, Ark.; Miss Rosa Wallace, Shreveport; Thelma Mitchell, Foreman, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Johnson and family, Jimmie Johnson, Mrs. Irene Annette Wilson, Nashville, Ark.

This above list is intended to cover only the out-of-county visitors who signed the register. Many others from Hope, Columbus and other towns in the county also registered.

People seem to be busy in their crops at this writing.

Preparing His Stamps for Exhibit

President Roosevelt is shown at work in the White House on his valuable collection of stamps, prior to shipping it to New York for display at the Third International Philatelic exhibition. Earlier he had approved the designs for a new series of army and navy heroes stamps, which will be more material for thousands of collections throughout the world.

Soviet Ambition Links Japan, China

Mongolian Pact With Russia Forces Yellow Nations Together

By C. Y. McDaniel

NANKING, China.—(AP)—Conclusion of a military pact between Russia and Outer Mongolia is seen here as a possible turning point in the history of northern Asia, marking as it does the first time in a decade that China and Japan are on the same side of the fence.

Japanese activities in Manchuria and Russian efforts in Mongolia have been only superficially similar, although both have resulted in the painting with new colors of hundreds of thousands of square miles blocked out in yellow on generally accepted maps of the Chinese empire.

The Mongols under Genghis and Kublai Khans conquered China and subjugated the Chinese. Modern China never has boasted the conquest of Mongolia. Mongol princes in the 13th century acknowledged the suzerainty of the Manchu emperors of China but continued to enjoy an autonomy not allowed the subjugated Chinese. But when the infant Emperor Puyi, last of the Manchus, climbed down from the Dragon Throne, the Mongols considered their only link with China broken.

Mongols Retained Autonomy
Conscious of czarist Russia's imperialistic glances in their direction, however, the Mongols avoided a clean break with the new born Chinese republic, achieving a state of autonomy which acknowledged Chinese sovereignty. Russian special interests and the right of self-government by the Mongols.

China seized the opportunity offered by the Russian revolution to cancel Mongolian autonomy and send a Chinese army northward. The Chinese were slaughtered and the Living Buddha of Urga set up as "Holy Duke" claiming the allegiance of all outer Mongolian princes. In the course of driving the White Russians out of Siberia, the Bolsheviks gained control of the "Holy Duke," establishing independent Outer Mongolia.

Russian Influence Grows
Upon the death of the "Holy Duke," Russia increased her influence in the area by setting up a "People's Republic," affiliated to but not a formal member of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, with the capital at Urga, renamed Ulan Bator.

Conclusion of the mutual assistance protocol between Moscow and Urga has not only dashed China's hope of regaining even a nominal influence in Outer Mongolia, but also has given Russia a direct interest in the "People's Republic's" border feud with Japanese-sponsored Manchukuo.

With her interests thus involved, Japan is spurring Mongolia to protest against the Soviet "unfreedom" of Chinese sovereignty in Mongolia.

Japan long had wanted at least North China as an ally against the communistic influence. While China fears she might be the eventual loser in any Russo-Japanese clash, the new pact may yet serve as the reason for an understanding between Nanking and Tokyo.

Estimates place the Indian population of America, at the time of Columbus' voyage, at approximately 850,000.

Salt Lake City women recently gave children a free course in making doll clothes.

Mrs. Ernest Ross and family. Miss Rena Nell Mullins spent Friday and Saturday with her sister, Miss Rena Lee Mullins of Hope.

Mrs. Jim Skinner called on Miss Catherine Ross Friday evening.

Dutch to Reclaim More Land in Sea

6,000 Men to Begin Work of Filling in 600,000 Marshy Acres

AMSTERDAM, Holland.—(AP)—Work on the second stage of the vast scheme to reclaim 600,000 acres of the Zuider Zee is to be started shortly.

Six thousand men, under direction of the Dutch government, will be given employment on the second of the four regions which it is intended to reclaim from the sea.

This region, known as the North-eastern Polder, includes the islands of Urk and Schokland which will come part of the mainland when work is completed in 1951.

SO THEY SAY

One hundred million cans of dog food are being eaten by the human race in the United States, and you can't laugh that off the floor of the Senate.—U. S. Senator L. J. Dickinson, Iowa.

We don't want American boys going off to war and coming back with foreign wives. Too many American girls were left behind with broken hearts in the last war.—Marion Carleton, Tulane University, chairman of "The Canteen Cakes," auxiliary organization to "Veterans of Future Wars."

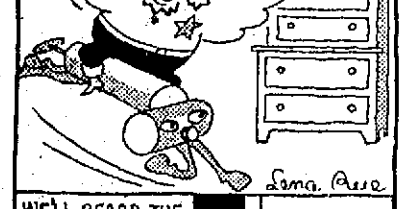

I can go back and finish counting the rivets of that jail. I was up to 17,000 on my last sentence.—Dan Farmer, Macon, Mo., convicted bootlegger.

How can a little child be expected to understand the difference between what adult society calls "white lies" and what parents call "a great big lie" when their children do the same thing.—Mrs. Paul B. Welles, president, National Federation of Day Nurseries.

I do know something of broken hearts and homes, and I do believe that too many of them may be traced to bridge-playing mothers.—Mrs. Alexander M. Damon, Salvation Army official.

Sh-Sh-Sh! That's our ACE IN THE HOLE!

You can't keep good news from spreading—so the word is out that the handsome Series 40 Buick Special is not only big but amazingly thrifty to boot!

One fellow, for instance, writes that he is getting three more miles per gallon than the salesman promised—why, asks he, don't we print such important news?

The fact is, we don't advertise specific miles-per-gallon figures because you simply can't set a figure that could be right for all drivers under all conditions.

So, instead of following the popular custom of claiming the world, on such matters we prefer to play safe and "talk small"—leaving Buick's really surprising thrugality to be one of those nice things you discover after you've driven one awhile! It works out fine too! Owners are constantly coming in to brag about high mileage averages low costs on oil long trips without a penny for service or attention. With all of its style, and comfort and stand-out performance—at prices beginning at $765* list—Buick's a winner and its thrift is all plus. Ride in one and see if that's not the truth!

$765 is the new Buick at list price, subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories group on all models at extra cost.
